their homes throughout the city. The cases are of a mild type, and no serious results have occurred. Every precaution is being taken for proper quarantine.

CHINA.

Reports from Shanghai—Inspection of vessels—Cholera—Quarantine against Amoy removed—Cholera at Hankau declining.

Acting Assistant Surgeon Ransom reports, October 13:

During the week ended October 3 original and supplemental bills of health were granted to 5 steamships with an aggregate personnel of 940. Bills of health were granted to the United States men-of-war Villaloboa and Callao.

The passengers from this port per Pacific Mail steamships China and Manchuria were inspected.

There were inspected 1 vessel, 94 members of crew, and 32 steerage passengers. Nine pieces of personal baggage were disinfected and 37 pieces passed and labeled.

Cholera is present here, chiefly among natives. One foreigner died of the disease two weeks ago. Smallpox is diminishing.

During the week ended October 10, 1 original and 1 supplemental bill of health were issued to 2 steamships with an aggregate personnel of 369. There were inspected 1 vessel, 66 members of crews, 2 cabin and 1 steerage passenger. There were disinfected by steam the effects of 57 members of crews and 1 steerage passenger. Fifty-seven men were bathed. The forecastle of 1 vessel was mechanically cleaned.

Manifests were viséed for 404 pieces of freight, amounting to 33 tons.

The authorities here have removed the quarantine restrictions against Amoy, that port having been declared free on September 30 from cholera and plague in epidemic form.

The cholera epidemic at Hankau has subsided. There are now occurring only a few sporadic cases each week.
